

Two Deadlines Spur Contract Talks At GM

DETROIT (AP)—Negotiators for General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union stepped up their bargaining efforts today to prevent threatened nationwide walkout at the auto industry's biggest company.

Prodded by two strike deadlines, negotiating teams were expected to hold lengthy sessions this week and next to thrash out both a new contract for some 354,000 UAW-represented employees and to settle local grievances.

First One Friday
UAW President Walter Reuther served a double strike notice on GM yesterday, threatening to pull assembly-line workers off the job at 10 a.m. Friday unless a new national agreement is reached by that time.

Simultaneously, the union advised the giant automaker that even with a national contract on economic and noneconomic issues, there will be walkouts one week later if no settlement is forthcoming on more than 18,000 local at-the-plant demands.

Such a strike would affect 129 GM plants in 71 cities.

The UAW made its move as GM came up with a new economic offer virtually matching the agreements reached by the union earlier this month with Ford and Chrysler.

Louis Seaton, GM vice president in charge of personnel, said the proposal was in line with the pattern established originally at Chrysler and would put the company's hourly-rated workers "on an economic par with respect to wages and benefits."

Key Issues Listed

Seaton said the offer provides a realistic basis for agreement. The GM official warned, however, that the economic proposal would become effective "only upon the negotiation of a mutually satisfactory agreement of at least three years' duration, including the resolution of all the national and local demands of each party."

Seaton explained the company's attitude to newsmen by asking: "What's the use of signing here and having one plant shut us down over the whole country?"

Seaton apparently was referring to the 1961 negotiations when, despite an agreement on national issues, GM was hit by a crippling strike over unsettled local demands.

Reuther said working conditions, production quotas and union representation were key issues at GM.

Both the Chrysler and Ford settlements came less than an hour before the deadlines, too late to stop brief scattered walkouts at a few plants.

Gulf Of Tonkin Shooting Affair Still Mystery

WASHINGTON (AP)—American destroyers were reported out of the Gulf of Tonkin today but what they hit there—if anything—remained a mystery.

Informed sources said the two vessels which fired on radar-spotted targets Friday have been pulled out of the gulf between Red Chinese and North Vietnamese coastlines after finishing their patrol on schedule.

When another destroyer patrol will sail in was left indefinite, but government sources said U.S. vessels will continue to exercise the right to roam international waters. The Navy craft have been going into the gulf periodically despite three incidents since Aug. 2.

The latest shooting occurred in the dark Friday when the two U.S. destroyers opened fire on what appeared to be menacing craft showing on their radar screens. Authorities said the radar definitely locked onto solid objects. According to the U.S. account, there was no return fire and the objects disappeared from the radar screens.

U.S. sources said investigation so far has produced no evidence of hits, such as debris or floating bodies. A Navy team has gone to the Far East to make an inquiry. It is not expected back until late next week.

The Soviet news agency Tass said Monday that the Americans fired at five ships, sinking three of them.

This seemed to come as a surprise to Washington officials, including President Johnson. He said he knew nothing about the Tass report and that newsmen had all the information the U.S. government has on this.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a Los Angeles news conference he would not speculate on the Russian claim.

Saigon Strike Is Called Off

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The general strike in Saigon was called off today. Labor leaders claimed a "complete victory."

Communications were restored. Electric power and water came on Monday night. Petroleum plants, tobacco factories, most dock facilities, textile factories and municipal buildings were still idle but were expected to be back to normal Wednesday.

Government sources said the strikers still out had been given the rest of today as a holiday.

Premier Nguyen Khanh's government announced striking workers fired by a leading textile plant would be reinstated. The general strike of 20,000 workers Monday started in support of them but produced other, more sweeping demands.

Government negotiators apparently held the line against a labor demand for repeal of a state of emergency regulation barring strikes. Instead, the government was reported to sign a decree banning lockouts. It also offered a decree prohibiting employers from firing workers during the state of emergency.

Some labor leaders conceded the Communist Viet Cong apparently was seeking to manipulate the strikers. A number of unidentified persons not connected with the labor leaders urged strikers on to demonstrate Monday, and some called for a charge on the premier's office building. Several thousand strikers had camped in front of the building as rain poured down.

Mobs have run wild in several cities in South Viet Nam during the past few days. There still was fear that Khan's shaky government would collapse.

More than 100 underground test blasts — in as many different shafts — have been conducted at the site, at Yucca Flats, about 110 air miles northwest of Las Vegas.

Off the drawing boards the better part of a decade, the 185-foot-long monster finally got off the ground Monday, and:

—First off, developed either instrument or mechanical trouble and went through most of its 65-minute maiden flight with one of its six engines dead.

—Developed landing gear trouble, and, as a precaution, kept its wheels and its speed down the rest of the flight.

—Landed with a fiery splash, burning two tires that apparently were held rigid by a locked brake.

The Air Force brushed aside these annoyances, expressed satisfaction with the flight, and said it expects the triangular-winged craft to carry on as a research vehicle — a role somewhat less dramatic than the one in which the XB70 was originally cast.

Crews Work To Save Four In Test Shaft

MERCURY, Nev. (AP) — Workmen sought urgently today to extricate a mass of electrical cable and free four men trapped 1,800 feet underground in a nuclear test shaft.

"It's a slow, agonizing process," said an Atomic Energy Commission spokesman. "The workmen have never come up against a problem like this before."

A steel cable supporting the electrical cable snapped about 6 p.m. Saturday and whiplashed upward, striking and killing one man and injuring three others, none seriously.

The cable, thick as a man's wrist, collapsed in a spaghetti-like snarl and clogged the bottom 300 feet of the 1,800-foot shaft. The shaft, cylindrical and steel-lined, is four feet in diameter.

Three 35-man crews in eight-hour shifts were working at extracting the mass of cable.

The trapped men were "comfortable and cheerful and were settling down for a good night's sleep," an AEC spokesman said Monday night.

They were in a 30-square-foot room with a 10-foot ceiling, adjoining the base of the shaft and built to hold test instruments for a nuclear test blast.

Plastic-wrapped food was lowered to the men through a 10-inch ventilation shaft.

White House Duties First, Johnson Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he is going out to talk to the people and "look them in the eye," but pledged "I will be president first" and not let campaigning interfere with White House duties.

He made it clear at a news conference Monday that while engaged in "visiting all over this country" he intends to be just about as nonpartisan as a fellow can be and still run for the nation's highest office.

Topping this off, the President greeted a large aggregation of representatives of fraternal organizations by telling them they were visiting their White House and that the office he holds was "the office of all the people."

"I do not know your politics," he said. "I do not care about your partisanship. I do know — and I do care — about your leadership."

Then he proceeded to sound a campaign theme. It was that the country is "more prosperous than ever before," is "better prepared than ever before" and is "more determined to preserve peace than ever before."

Admitting a band of surprised tourists at a White House gate, Johnson led them and reporters for four laps around the White House back lawn. As he progressed, he answered newsmen's questions.

Railroad Shop Dispute Settled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's trains chugged past another major strike threat today after a scheduled day-break walkout was postponed indefinitely.

There appeared little likelihood of a renewal of the strike threat by 150,000 shop workers after negotiators announced a "tentative settlement" of their job security dispute.

The announcement Monday came about 14 hours before the scheduled 6 a.m. strike deadline and ended the second major threat of a virtually nationwide rail tieup since April.

"We have reached an agreement on four of the major issues involved and feel certain we will be able to complete the agreement very soon," said Michael Fox, spokesman for six shop craft unions.

The unions had called the strike against most of the nation's railroads except the Pennsylvania and Long Island railroads, the Southern Railway System and the Florida East Coast.

Francis A. O'Neill, member of the National Mediation Board, said talks were to resume today "to try to wrap up the balance of this dispute."

The sole issue involved in the negotiations is job security, a problem that has increasingly aggravated rail labor relations since railroad modernization began wiping out thousands of jobs over the past 15 years.

No details of the tentative agreement were announced.

White Pine Mine Remains Idle

WHITE PINE (AP) — A new contract stalemate continued today in the 22-day-old strike which has closed Michigan's largest copper mine and idled 1,700.

Negotiations for the White Pine Copper Co. and the United Steelworkers Union last met eight days ago. No new meetings have been scheduled. State mediator Carl York and federal mediator James Despins have left the scene.

The company says the union is demanding a three-year contract worth 71.5 cents hourly over that span in wages and fringe benefits. The company has countered with a package it estimates is worth 28.85 cents hourly.

The average hourly wage of White Pine workers was $2.65, the firm estimated.

White Pine, a subsidiary of Copper Range Co., employs 1,400 unionists in its mining and smelting operations which turned out approximately 11 million pounds of refined copper monthly before the Aug. 31 walkout. It employs an additional 300 in executive, clerical and other jobs.

The Steelworkers continue manning a picket line with 10 to 20 strikers where a road leading into White Pine property leaves M 64 in this western Upper Peninsula community.

Another strike, idling 125, continues at the Copper Range Co.'s Champion mine and its Red Ridge ore mill. Native copper produced from this shaft is shipped to Lake Linden, outside Houghton, for refining by Calumet & Hecla, Inc., an independent miner and refiner operating in the Keweenaw Peninsula.

Blazes Partly Blocked After Two-Day Siege

CALISTOGA, Calif. (AP) — A monster forest fire that marched 18 miles in 15 hours, charring 90 square miles of timber and brush and endangering two cities, neared control by firemen today.

Like a fiery giant in seven-league boots, the blaze strode across the rugged mountains separating the Napa Valley resort town of Calistoga and Santa Rosa, seat of adjacent Sonoma County.

By dawn, weary firefighters appeared to have beaten back the fire 1½ miles southwest of exhausted Calistoga after a siege of two days.

Jumps To Santa Rosa

The meandering blast furnace that hopped the tops of lofty pines over the mountains into Santa Rosa also was contained, but only after three fiery fingers had laid waste to some 25 homes, forced evacuation of about 2,000 persons and threatened a hospital and a convent.

Whipped by high winds to express-train speeds, the fire started on its devastating trek late Monday afternoon. Earlier in the day, it had swept into Calistoga, destroying or charring 50 homes and putting half the population to flight.

Beaten off once, the fire spread eastward from Calistoga, only to turn once more on the beleaguered city ahead of a shifting wind.

Again firefighters blocked the path of the blaze. And again a capricious wind sent it eastward.

Subdivision Saved
The fire crackled into Santa Rosa early this morning.

Burning out of the mountains and across fields of tinder-dry brush, the fire first threatened Lomita Heights, a new subdivision of homes in the $50,000 to $100,000 range.

Firemen saved the subdivision, but the blaze then sped toward the 150-bed Sonoma County Hospital. As city buses stood by to evacuate patients, the fire ran out of fuel at bulldozed fire lines just 200 yards from the hospital.

The fire burned along the ridges on both sides of Rincon Valley, where most of the damage to homes occurred.

Some 200 city employees manning bulldozers and steam shovels joined firemen in throwing a protective ring around the fire's next threatened target—the Ursuline Convent housing 116 students and 16 Catholic nuns.

Napa Out Of Danger
By early morning, the convent was believed out of danger.

And officials in both communities — despite the devastation — were thankful.

"It was a miracle there were no major injuries," said Kent Bathurst, assistant city manager of Santa Rosa.

Most serious injury reported was a shoulder separation suffered by an unidentified youth who tumbled down the side of a canyon while fighting the fire near his home.

Heightening hope the fire will be controlled today is the anticipated use of borate bombers

Convict Rioter Of 1952 Freed At Marquette

MARQUETTE (AP) — One-time prison riot leader Earl Ward became a free man today after 15 years behind bars.

Ward, who was called the "mastermind" of the bloody and destructive five-day riot at Southern Michigan Prison in 1952, walked out of the maximum security state branch prison here, his term completed.

Except for his refusal to permit a newspaper photographer to take his picture at the prison, Ward's departure was routine.

Ward, who will be 40 next month, left the prison about 7 a.m. He was escorted to downtown Marquette where he boarded a Greyhound bus for Chicago. He was expected to go to Miami, Fla., to be with relatives.

Cash Totals $15

The photographer got Ward's picture as he boarded the bus. Ward, in dark glasses and street clothes, carried a small package of personal belongings and had $15 in his pocket from his prison account.

Prison Warden Raymond Buckhoe said Ward looked well as he left. Asked if Ward seemed happy, Buckhoe said "everybody who leaves prison is happy."

The 15 years of Ward's penal service were part of two long concurrent terms — a 20-to-30-year term for kidnapping of guards in the prison riot and a 25-to-30-year term from Detroit for armed robbery, his original sentence.

Damage 2½ Million

Ward, then 28, was a kingpin in the five-day riot during which state police shot and killed one of the convict rioters. The riot caused damage estimated at $2.5 million.

Two thousand of the prison's approximately 6,000 inmates took part in the riot. None escaped.

Displaying a glib personality, Ward did the negotiating with prison officials that led to the "ice cream and steak" agreement under which hostage guards were freed and the riot ceased.

Ward won his release, after seven and a half years in solitary confinement, on the basis of "good time" behavior which under law reduced his term. His "solitary" ended in 1962.

Deputy Warden William Luoma and State Corrections Commissioner Gus Harrison both said Ward had been a "good prisoner."

"He had been doing a swell job. . . He had behaved and done his work properly," Luoma said. "His time is in as far as the prison is concerned."

"My understanding is that he has been a good inmate," Harrison said. Ward had been turned down in the past on application for parole.

State law provides a "good time" formula for early release. A set number of days are credited per month. This credit accelerates as time passes with continued good behavior.

The riot leaders seized 11 guards and held them as hostages until the disturbance was ended on the fifth day.

Barricaded riot leaders, Ward among them, refused to give up until promised steak and ice cream for dinner for the convicts. They also won concessions that included prison "reforms."

Then Warden Julian N. Frisbie and Dr. Vernon B. Fox, prison psychiatrist and director of prisoner treatment, were ousted in an investigation.

Ward was the last of the three so-called riot ringleaders in prison.

Jack (Crazy Jack) Hyatt was freed several years ago. A Canadian, he was deported to that country. James Hudson died of burns in a prison cell, victim of a fellow inmate's revenge. The inmate sprayed Hudson with an inflammable fluid and tossed a lighted match on him.

EARL WARD, 39, boards a Greyhound bus in Marquette today for Miami, Fla., after release from Marquette Branch State Prison. With him is Greyhound driver Les Brown of Milwaukee. Ward, a leader of the bloody 1952 riot in Southern Michigan State Prison at Jackson, was serving 25-30 years for armed robbery at the time of the riot and got an additional 20 to 30 years for kidnapping of guards. He was released today after seven and a half years in solitary confinement following the riot to make a total of 15 years in prison. (Marquette Mining Journal Photo for Associated Press)

County Builds Economy Bridge

Delta County voters who are being asked to approve one-half mill tax levy for replacement of old and dangerously inadequate county bridges may be sure their money will be spent to the best possible advantage, William Karas, county road superintendent-engineer, said today.

The tax for bridges proposal will be on the ballot Nov. 3 and seeks approval of levying one-half mill (50 cents) per $1,000 of assessed valuation for five years.

The County Road Commission has listed 30 bridges which need replacement over a period of years. The proposed levy would be used as matching funds which would double the amount available.

The county has completed construction of a bridge which is an example of the economical construction methods to be used in replacing other obsolete structures spanning rivers on county roads in Delta County.

Cutting Costs

Karas said the new bridge crosses the Rapid River on local road H 42 north of the Dutch Mill. The cost is financed 50 per cent by Maple Ridge Township and 50 per cent by the Delta County Road Commission.

The bridge is 66 feet long, has two 33-foot spans, and is 18 feet wide. The total cost is $16,000.

"This bridge is cheap and it is strong," said Karas. "It is prefabricated at the County Road Commission shop and is of welded steel. The type is the same as those that could be used on other local roads in the county under the proposed bridge improvement program."

Because the bridges can be prefabricated in the shop at periods when other employment is down, continuing local employment is provided and there is not need of contracting the work out to persons outside Delta County, Karas said.

The bridge is prefabricated with Road Commission men and equipment and is then hauled to the site where it is erected.

Another bridge is to go in this fall under the same type of construction plan, but it will open up a U. S. Forest Service public recreation area and its cost is shared three ways—one-half by the Road Commission, and one-quarter each by the Forest Service and by Ensign Township.

Other Projects

The bridge is located on County Road J-11 and crosses the Ogontz River to replace a present span that is narrow and dangerously old. A cable holds one of the abutments in place.

Other bridge work this year included replacement of an old and narrow bridge on County Primary Road 535 (South Bark River Road) with two large twin-arch pipes. Total cost of $25,000 shared by federal and County Road Commission funds was for approaches as well as the pipes.

County Road improvement projects other than bridges include completion of 7 miles of paver-laid blacktop on County Road 414 in the Riverview area and on the County Road 535 toward Fuller Park. The work was done by Thornton Construction Co. and the bid price was $52,000.

The Road Commission has also primed and double-sealed with blacktop a total of 33 miles in various parts of the county, largest amount of surfacing since the WPA days. Money saved because of a light winter was put into surfacing, which will likewise reduce the cost of maintenance in the future.

Forms Available For Gas Refunds

Farmers filing for a gasoline tax refund must do so by Sept. 20. This is a federal tax of four cents a gallon. Farmers are eligible for a refund when gasoline is used on farm fields and not on roads. Farmers who have filed in past years should have received form 2240 through the mail. New operators of farms can get a blank at the Extension Office.

Delta Roads Get $62,843

The apportionment of federal matching funds for construction on state and county secondary roads was announced recently by State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie. Mackie said Michigan will receive $8,519,592 in federal funds for secondary road construction during the fiscal year starting next July, an increase of about $50,000 compared to the current fiscal year.

The State Highway Department will retain approximately 39 per cent of the funds or $2,981,553 for use on its secondary system.

The state's 83 counties will receive $55,410,245. Each county road commission must match the federal funds on a 50-50 basis and they may be used for construction purposes only. The money is allocated to the counties on the basis of land area, population and road mileage.

The matching funds for use on county secondary road construction in this region includes:

Delta County—$62,843, Alger—$40,784, Dickinson—$41,218, Luce—$38,324, Mackinac—$49,051, Marquette—$97,328, and Schoolcraft—$48,789.

World consumption of paper over the past 10 years has grown from 58 million tons to 97 million tons.

Plowman Quits Social Aid Job

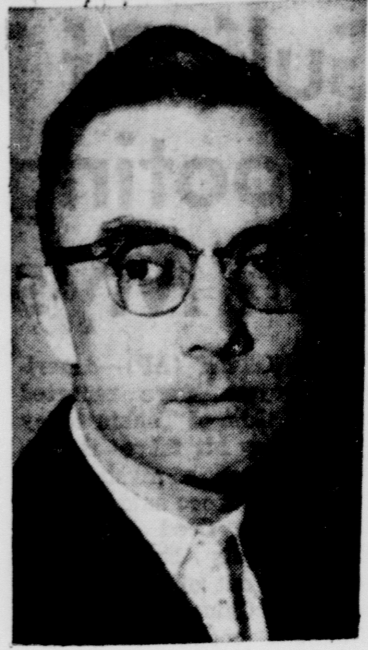

The supervisor of the Delta County Bureau of Social Aid and Department of Special Welfare for the past seven years is resigning to continue his education toward a Master of Arts degree.

Lyle Plowman of 516 S. 17th St. said today that his resignation will become effective Oct. 2. No one has been named to succeed him in the supervisory position as yet.

"The return to school is something I have thought about for some time and decided to do now and not wait longer," said Plowman. "I am completing work toward a degree and hope to receive my Master of Arts in sociology in January."

Plowman is now attending Northern Michigan University on a part time basis and is continuing his work as supervisor for the Social Welfare department. His resignation from the Social Welfare position will become effective Oct. 2.

The Plowmans will continue their residence in Escanaba. A graduate of Central Michigan University, where he re-

Millage For Bridges

Supervisor Eugene Black, Escanaba Township, chairman of the Roads and Bridges Committee of the Delta County Board of Supervisors, urges a Yes vote by the public in the Nov. 3 election on a proposal for a special one half mill levy for 5 years to build some highway bridges in the county.

The Escanaba Daily Press also recommends the project and urges a Yes vote on the millage.

Delta County is blessed with many rivers. They have already given a character and value to hundreds of miles of stream frontage property in the county and will make the area increasingly attractive for residence and for recreation. But these rivers must be bridged at intervals for highway travel and this bridging has become very expensive at a time when many of the old bridges are no longer safe for today's heavy highway vehicles — school buses, wood trucks, milk trucks — and other units.

The normal income of the County Road Commission, even with a $40,000 supplement from the county for several years to speed road rehabilitation, is insufficient to replace quickly the county's old bridges with adequate structures.

There are 30 that should be replaced for the safety and convenience of the traveling public, says William J. Karas, county highway engineer, and it would take 15 years or more at the present rate of construction to replace them.

The half mill levy (50c per $1000 of valuation) would bring the County Road Commission $38,000 a year. In 5 years this would total $190,000 and would make the county eligible for federal highway aid to complete a $400,000 total project. This would take care of about half of the county's urgent bridge needs.

In urging a half-a-loaf solution to the bridge problem, our highway officials are mindful that there are other urgent needs of government in the area, notably the schools, and that the voters probably wouldn't approve a full mill for the work to complete it in a 5 year period.

The 30 bridges which the new tax would reduce to 15 have a total span of 1,483 feet. They would be replaced with bridges with an average width of 27 feet (below standard) or a total of 40,000 square feet of bridge. At an estimated cost of $20 per square foot the total cost would be about $800,000, says Karas.

The proposed bridge project is only a start on a public highway problem, but a big one. The voters can have the good feeling that their money will be efficiently spent. The Delta County Highway Department has given it a substantial bargain in the county's newest bridges, many of which have been prefabricated in its own shops with off-season welding work.

Horse Age Worse

Almost anywhere one travels in America today, whether in city or country, the marks of the bulldozer can be seen on the land as more and more stretches of the vast Interstate Highway network come into being, as more and more residential subdivisions spring up on what was yesterday a farm, as more and more decayed city cores are torn down and rebuilt.

To most of us this means progress. But at the same time, there are many who lament the transformation of millions of acres of forest and field into great ribbons of concrete and asphalt.

To some, there seems an actual danger that the entire country will eventually be paved solid with superhighways and city streets.

Now comes a voice crying that this isn't so at all. According to the Tax Institute of America, urban areas take up only 1 per cent of our total land area. Even if cities continue to grow at their present rate—absorbing about 400,000 new acres a year—they will still only occupy less than 2 per cent of the land by the year 2010.

As for the automobile, says the study, it and its highways actually use far less space than the horse and mule once did.

Before 1920, for instance, nearly 5 per cent of the total land in the 48 continental states was used merely to produce the feed for this living form of transportation. This amounted to 27 per cent of the total harvested land.

The switch from animals to automobiles has meant an actual gain in land, for by 1957 only 2.4 per cent of harvested land was devoted to raising feed for horses and mules.

Even though some of this "released" land is being surfaced over, "the motor car is still using far less acreage than was needed for its four-legged predecessor," says the report.

Moreover, the Tax Institute claims, there is a lot of vacant land in urban areas and it is not as high-priced as is generally believed. It ranges from 12 per cent in New York and Chicago to as much as 36 per cent in some smaller cities.

Also in the cities, the institute's analysis finds, the automobile is shrinking the space requirements of streets once trod by horses. Modern subdivisions and rebuilt areas, specifically designed for automobile travel, devote no more than 20 per cent of the total land to traffic needs, including both streets and arterial free-ways.

It is the automobile that has made possible the fantastic spreading of our cities by providing both a great part of the economic basis for a large population and the means for it to get from place to place.

It is encouraging to be told that the automobile is also providing the means for the intelligent use and conservation of the land we hold in trust for future generations.

Bumper To Bumper

If you think things are tough out there in traffic now, just hold on.

Statisticians estimate that by 1970 there will be on the streets and highways of America a merry little swarm of cars, buses, trucks and whatnot totaling at least 100,000,000—about a fourth again as many as there are today.

If all these 100,000,000 vehicles were placed bumper to bumper—which is where most of them will be on any pleasant Sunday afternoon—they would form an unbroken line of traffic 337,327 miles long.

This not only is equivalent to 13 times the distance around the earth, but represents a solid traffic jam of 251 cars abreast every foot of the way from New York City to Miami, Fla.

If you plan to go South, you'd better get going before the crowd assembles.

As if Things Weren't Bad Enough

Washington Comment

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The campaign effort for GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater is at this stage relying on a fascinating blend of hard work and hope.

As already well-remarked, the hard work is directed toward precinct-level activity far more intensive than any in recent Republican history. In 1960, some 5,000 precincts in eastern seaboard cities were virtually unmanned by the GOP.

The hope, as voiced both by Goldwater himself and by some of his chief helpers, is that there is sufficient uneasiness among millions of American voters to make the hard work pay off.

More than a few top men in the senator's camp insist the restlessness is there. They say they just don't know how widespread it is. Some are guessing the stir is big. One manager's view:

"Even though we are not undergoing anything climactic like war or depression, it is possible we may be getting a fundamental realignment of parties, of a sort we've had only three or four times in our history."

This Goldwater lieutenant believes that the shift, of course, would be toward making the GOP a more sharply defined conservative party. As such, he feels it may attract millions who are said to be vaguely but unmistakably dissatisfied despite basic prosperity and an absence of major war.

The Nov. 3 result will demonstrate in good part whether this is a valid notion or a comfortable fantasy dreamed up by Goldwater and his managers to ease the pain of adverse public opinion polls.

Some of the senator's key men are doing their best to make it seem valid.

F. Clifton White, able operating head of Citizens for Goldwater-Miller, is mounting what may prove one of the most efficient and ambitious efforts ever undertaken to pull "independents" and some Democrats to the senator's banner.

The theory is that independents, growing in number in many areas, are basically perching on weakly or non-existent partisan bonds—rather than individuals with especially discriminating voting judgment. Many polling experts tend to support this view.

The White tactic: Give these independents, through Goldwater, the clearest reasons they've had in years for making a Republican attachment. The other crucial Goldwater undertaking is, of course, the attempt to dig out countless Republicans who never go to the polls.

If Goldwater's "clear choice" pull is indeed strong, this task may be somewhat simplified.

But GOP vote-getting techniques make no soft assumptions. The celebrated vote-quota program is their hard answer to a tough problem.

Interestingly, these technicians accept pollsters' findings over a span of years that most of the nation's 30 to 35 million (eligible) nonvoters are probably Democrats at heart.

They simply argue that a healthy portion of that non-voting total is Republican, and if they can get it registered and out to the polls it is big enough to do a winning job for Goldwater or anybody else.

The skeptics, Democratic and otherwise, question first whether Goldwater men can really crank up in time to jar whatever slumbering GOP vote there may be. They wonder, second, whether the senator, with his present "mixed image" on the peace issue, will exert a heavy pull on independents. The polls do not yet suggest it.

Lastly, even if Goldwater's extraordinary vote-dredging campaign is highly effective, it might amount to "running to stand still." Defection of Republican moderates is reported heavy. And Goldwater leaders concede they are getting just lip service or no service at all from moderate GOP chieftains in vital big states.

The Doctor Says:

Gall Bladder Surgery Safer

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt,

Q — I am a woman, 73. My doctor says I have a badly diseased gall bladder and that I should have it out. What will happen if it is not removed?

A — I have consulted several authorities. All agree that gall bladder disease in persons over 65 is a serious condition, and that operation is the best treatment. Chronic infection in the gall bladder is a drag on your vitality. There is always the danger that the infection will spread to your liver or pancreas.

Statistics show that persons with untreated gall bladder disease do not live as long as those who have their gall bladder removed.

Furthermore, cancer of the gall bladder is more likely to occur in persons with a chronic diseased gall bladder.

Although no major operation is a picnic, removal of the gall bladder in elderly persons is a much safer procedure now than it used to be, thanks to antibiotics and improved surgical techniques.

Q — I am a woman, 57. A scab forms on the side of my nose and does not fall off unless it is accidentally knocked off — then another scab forms. It is not large and it does not hurt. I have had it for several months. What should I do about it?

A — You have described what is most likely a skin cancer of a slowly growing and not very malignant type. Have your doctor examine it. If it is a cancer, have him remove it. This type of cancer rarely comes back.

Q — Why do my ears seem to be closed up some days when I get out of bed? I get the same feeling when ascending to high altitudes in an airplane.

A — In some persons, the eustachian tubes that lead from the eardrums to the junction of the nose and throat get plugged with a little mucus during the night.

The resulting sensation can often be relieved by yawning or chewing gum. If this does not work, hold your nose shut and try to exhale forcefully.

Don't do this if you have a cold or a sore throat, because you might force infectious matter into your middle ear.

If your ears close up often, you should be examined by a nose and throat specialist to see whether you have a more permanent type of obstruction.

Purse Valued At $4000 Found By Honest Man

WHITEHALL, AP) — A Muskegon man's honesty turned frowns into smiles Sunday night for a Lafayette, Ind., couple who thought they had lost more than $4,000.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Winfield stopped for lunch here Saturday and their pet dog ran away. Mrs. Winfield put her purse on the car and helped her husband catch the dog. The purse was left on the car and fell off when they drove onto U. S. 131 freeway. Its absence was discovered after they had gone a short distance.

The Winfields retraced their path but were unable to find the purse which contained a diamond watch, cash and checks. The loss was reported to Whitehall Police.

Cannery worker Charles Boltenbach turned it in Sunday evening. He said he had spotted the purse on his way to work and picked it up, holding it until he heard a radio report and description of the missing items.

Ann Landers Still Undresses In The Closet

Dear Ann Landers: Your reply to the husband whose wife has been undressing in the closet every night for 12 years riled me to the point where I had to write. There must be thousands of women, like myself, who have a special problem. We need your help, Ann not your criticism.

I've been married 21 years and I still undress in the closet. This has nothing whatsoever to do with a warped mind or false modesty. It is purely a matter of needing my rest.

My husband can fall into bed half dead but if I should remove my stockings in his presence he suddenly springs back to life.

We have a good marriage, four fine children and this is the first time I've had to write to Ann Landers. Will you please get in our corner? We need you.

— JUST TIRED
Dozens of women wrote to say they share the problem. This small army of exhausted wives did not seem to me to be motivated by prudishness. So — I give all of you the green light on NO light if this is the way it is at your house.

Dear Ann: A friend told me his wife used to undress in the closet and he couldn't figure out why. One night he investigated and discovered she had a friend in there. Any comment? — FOX

Dear Fox: Yes. Twenty-three skidoo.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a girl 15 — not beautiful, but average-looking, with a better than average figure.

I went with a 16-year-old boy for two months. We were getting along great, then last night out of a clear blue sky he said, "I think we'd better break up before we get into trouble."

I was dumbfounded. There was no reason for him to be worried about such a thing. We have never even necked.

I cried for about two hours last night, and I am crying again today as I write this letter. It can't be that he wanted to break up for the reason he gave. Please help me figure this out. — RIVER OF TEARS

Dear River: If he had told you he wanted to break up because you were nine feet tall and had two heads would you feel better? What difference does the reason make? The boy wanted out — so accept it and stop cry-

When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friends, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Longer School Year Favored

EAST LANSING (AP) — The President of Michigan State University says the nation's schools should consider operating year-around—not to pass students through faster, but to teach them more.

Dr. John A. Hannah said the time now used for a long summer vacation should be used to cover more subject matter, or "the effort and expenditure would leave us no better off than we now are."

It would be no gain, he said, "to push youngsters through faster and place them, at an earlier age, on the labor market or at the doorstep of our overcrowded colleges and universities."

Hannah added: "In the light of the amount there is to be taught and the limited time available, is it not our duty to ask ourselves the question: can we still afford the luxury of long, lazy summer vacations?" Hannah addressed his suggestions especially to high schools. "Jobs for high school youngsters are hard to find these days," he said, "and few families depend on their children's labors in summer to supplement the family income."

In dealing with the dropout problem, Hannah said, schools are "in a three-sided box," hemmed in by diminishing job opportunities for the poorly educated, the "imperative necessity that more and more be taught to students," and "arbitrary limitations" on the time students be kept in school.

While there would be opposition to year-around schooling, "we might be surprised by the numbers of parents who would approve," Hannah said.

"As for teachers, many universities have met and solved this problem with their faculty members and found it not too difficult," he said.

Hunting Opener Prospects Good

Fields, forests and water-rimmed areas will come alive on Oct. 1 with the cracking sounds of guns and the twang of bows as firearm hunters open fire on small game, geese, and bear in northern Michigan while archers start stalking deer and bear throughout the state.

For the 150,000-plus sportsmen who will be on hand when the action begins, the season's shooting prospects are generally as good as they were in 1963, according to the Conservation Department.

Among those who should find things to their liking are Upper Peninsula ruffed grouse hunters. With "pat" numbers up in their region, they are expected to top last year's take of 195,000 birds. Their best shooting will be in Aiger, Houghton, Iron, Marquette, and Menominee counties.

Geese At Seney

Woodcock hunters in both northern regions have plenty to cheer about this season. Their favorite targets are at least as abundant as they were in 1963 when sportsmen bagged a record 23,580 timber doodles in the Upper Peninsula, and 64,830 in the northern Lower Peninsula.

Although they offer very limited sport, sharp-tailed grouse have increased slightly in parts of the Upper Peninsula.

Elsewhere on the state's northern hunting front, the goose season should get off to a good start, with local birds providing most of the action at the onset. Department game men look for flights of geese later in the fall which will at least measure up to those of a year ago. Hot spot for opening action on honkers in the Upper Peninsula will be Seney National Wildlife Refuge.

Ready and waiting for more thrills after their first early season in September are Upper Peninsula bear hunters who get back into the swing of things Oct. 1. Prospects are good.

Herd Near Record

Archery deer hunters, who are expected to be about 40,000 strong, have every reason to go afield with high hopes this season. The state's deer herd is again at a near-record size, paralleling its population of 1963 when bow and arrow enthusiasts took 2,140 white-tails.

Another important target date coming up for Michigan sportsmen is Oct. 8, this fall's opener for duck hunting throughout the state. Compared with last season, duck hunters should score a higher take on the first day as a result of having their starting time moved ahead to sunrise. They can look for a good supply of home-grown birds on most of the state's interior potholes, marshes, and beaver ponds when the season gets under way.

Duck flights which will push through Michigan this fall are predicted to be about the same as last year when hunters jumped their kill to nearly 250,000 birds.

THOSE HOLES SAVE MONEY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Franklin County jail prisoners will be allowed to drill holes if plans of county commissioners are realized. But they'll be in doughnuts.

Commissioners, figuring to save at least one type of dough, are negotiating for a doughnut machine. They say the cost would be about $200, compared with about $450 monthly for doughnuts served prisoners for breakfast.

Copper Price Jumps 2 Cents

NEW YORK (AP) — A long expected rise in domestic copper prices started to take shape Monday with announcement of two-cent a pound jumps by two major producers.

The rises to 34 cents a pound, both effective today, were posted by Phelps Dodge Corp. and Anaconda Corp., the No. 2 and 3 domestic producers.

Kennecott, the only larger direct supplier in the United States market, had no comment.

C. Jay Parkinson, Anaconda president, although asserting that the long term supply picture was good, predicted the rise would stick.

Formal word came from Anaconda at the close of trading on the New York Stock Exchange where copper stocks spurted sharply higher in preceding hours.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pontiac, Port Huron and Jackson, Mich., failed to generate sufficient local airline service traffic as of last June 30 to meet Civil Aeronautics Board standards, the CAB said Monday.

The CAB has authorized airlines to discontinue service at a number of cities that have been failing to produce at least five passengers a day.

"Unless adequate use is made of the air service," the CAB wrote to mayors of each Michigan city mentioned, "its cost to the government is not warranted, and continuation of the service would not be in the best interests of the public."

Lake Central Airlines serves Jackson, North Central Airline serves Pontiac and Port Huron. In none of the cities has there been at least five passengers a day during the past fiscal year, the CAB said.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Six manufacturers of folding school bleachers stipulated in U. S. District Court Monday to a $575,000 triple damage antitrust judgment.

It ended the suit brought Aug. 19, 1960, by the state of California and more than 100 public agencies, mainly school districts, which charged the defendants with conspiring since 1954 to fix prices and bids on folding inside and outside bleachers.

The original suit asked $1,050,000.

Firms which agreed to the stipulated judgment today before Judge A. J. Zirpoli were: Brunswick Corp., Chicago; Consolidated Foundries and Manufacturing Corp., Chicago; Fred Medart Mfg. Co., St. Louis; Safway Steel Products, Inc., Milwaukee; Universal Bleacher Co., Champaign, Ill., and Wayne Works of Wayne, Pa.

TAKES HIS OWN ADVICE
SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Fred Harrington, a science teacher at Sarasota High School, learns from what he teaches.

Last January, Harrington was giving a lecture on the physiological effects of smoking cigarettes. He opened a fresh pack and lit one to show the students the brown stain the smoke would make when blown through a handkerchief.

"While talking to them," Harrington says, "I convinced myself. I still have the other 19 cigarettes in the pack. I quit smoking then and there."

Soo Line Wants Track Pulled Up

LANSING (AP) — The Soo Line Railroad would ask permission to abandon at least 100 miles of track in the eastern Upper Peninsula if permission were granted to discontinue service in the northern Lower Peninsula and scuttle a ferry across the Straits of Mackinac, Peter Spivak, chairman of the Michigan Public Service Commission, said Monday.

Spivak said in an interview that "the best we could hope for would be that they (the Soo) would be willing to keep service open as far east as Manistique and Shingleton."

He referred to a request by the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads to abandon 300 miles of track and of the three railroads to abandon their rail ferry service linking the two peninsulas.

Public service attorneys began cross-examining railroad witnesses today in the latest of a series of hearings. The examination may take 10 days, said Norman Berkowitz, commission secretary. The commission would then move for a six-week adjournment to prepare its own case, he added.

Mead Offering Paper Program

"Paper Works Wonders," a new 18-minute color slide story of the paper industry, is being offered to civic, service and social clubs in the Escanaba area by The Mead Corp.'s Escanaba Division.

Unusual new uses for paper, the size and scope of the paper industry, and information about The Mead Corp.'s operations in Escanaba and throughout the nation are described in the program, according to George Douglas, Mead's Division manager.

Douglas and five members of his staff will be available to present the program which has been designed for all types of meetings to any interested groups. The other Mead speakers are: Robert Barron, assistant director of industrial relations; William Mulvaney, orders and scheduling supervisor; Robert Schmeling, woodlands manager; Fred Fisher, engineering assistant; and Jerry Parr, assistant technical director.

Barron is a native of Escanaba. He received his degree in economics from Michigan State, and is active in community activities. He is a Kiwanian.

Mulvaney joined Mead in 1946 with the accounting department. He advanced to supervisor in 1954. He is a member of the Kiwanis and the Toastmaster's International, as well as many local activities.

Schmeling has been associated with the woodlands department since starting with Mead in 1946. He has been woodlands manager at the Escanaba Division since 1951. He is vice president of the Delta County Historical Society and is active in youth and church work also.

Fisher has been with Mead since 1931. He advanced to his present position in 1956. He is associated with an impressive list of community activities, some of which include the Junior Achievement Club and the Toastmaster's Club.

The Mead career of Parr began at the Chillicothe Division in 1959. In 1960, he was transferred to his present position in Escanaba. He received a degree in chemical engineering from Rose Polytechnic College, and he is district vice-chairman for the Boy Scouts.

Division Manager Douglas has been with Mead since 1937 when he worked for the Chillicothe Corp. research department. He has been division manager at Escanaba since 1953. Douglas is a member of the Community Chest, Junior Achievement, Rotary Club, and the Boy Scouts.

Groups interested in making arrangements to have "Paper Works Wonders" presented at their meetings should contact the Division Manager's Office at Mead, ST6-1660.

New Recreation Lures Needed, Romney Declares

BOYNE MOUNTAIN (AP) — Michigan's natural beauty and diversity must not "lull us into the complacent hope" that they alone will bring an ever-increasing flow of tourists, Gov. George Romney said Monday night.

Speaking to the Northern Great Lakes Area Council, the governor presented two major suggestions for man-made tourist attractions.

"The trouble is that not all of Michigan's 11,000 lakes are in the right place," Romney said. "We must consider creating artificial lakes ... to help meet the boom demand for water-based recreation."

The governor also suggested clustering tourist attractions "so the public and private developments will reinforce each other's appeals."

"A lake, a stream, a forest, or a tradition—and Michigan is rich in all these—can set the scene for a festival, a park, or a multimillion-dollar resort development," Romney said. "These in turn can spur the growth of added services for tourists — motels, restaurants, and guided tours."

Meanwhile, Romney said, state parks need expansion.

"Camping facilities in our state parks have been expanded by about 30 per cent during the past three years," he said. "Yet, as of Aug. 30 of this year, the number of would-be campers turned away from state park campgrounds was up more than 11 per cent over a year ago."

The governor said the Conservation Department within 60 days will have completed a master plan for meeting Michigan's state park needs for the years ahead.

Youth Arrested By State Police Pleads Guilty

Keith Buckland, 17, of Rte. 1, Gladstone, was arraigned Monday before Justice A. J. Mortier and pleaded guilty to a charge of malicious destruction of property. He was ordered to serve 15 days in the county jail and to make restitution.

Buckland was arrested Monday by State Police following investigation of a complaint signed by Kenneth Tousignant of Rte. 1, Escanaba. Tousignant had reported that his automobile was tampered with sometime Saturday night and that the ignition wires had been pulled in an apparent attempt to start the car.

Firm Goes Broke

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Roberts Tire Sales, Inc., of Lansing was on record today with a petition in bankruptcy at U.S. District Court here listing liabilities as $59,944 and assets as $28,325.

Spud Crop Off, Price To Rise

Reports now coming in show a definite trend to a smaller fall potato harvest. Latest forecast of the fall crop is 18 million hundredweight, 8 per cent less than 1963 and the smallest since 1960. The estimates have been coming down since August due to adverse weather conditions, particularly in the West where the most potatoes are grown.

Frosts in August in Idaho, Colorado, and Oregon materially reduced yields. In Idaho alone they estimate the crop down 18 per cent, compared to 1963. In some areas the kill was complete and digging there was already started.

In the central states the prospects are also down 9 per cent compared to 1963. The reduction is chiefly in North Dakota and Minnesota. Hot dry weather in early August retarded growth. Slight frosts also retarded growth in the Red River Valley which occurred Aug. 12-13. This will delay the crop in making tonnage and the September frosts will prevent that.

In the Eastern states the reverse is true. Yields are better than 1963. Growing conditions in Maine were favorable but the yield is not enough to offset conditions in the Central and Western sections.

Michigan expects to have more tonnage than a year ago but this should have very little bearing on price. Michigan does not produce enough potatoes to have any great influence on prices.

The late summer crop harvesting was well on schedule and in some cases ahead of normal harvesting. This is good for growers of the fall crop. The smaller the amount left to harvest after Sept. 1 the better prices will hold.

Every indication points to a year of better prices, which is long overdue. At digging time there are always a few distressed potatoes for lack of storage but this should clear up rapidly.

New York raises about 10-24,000 chickens annually.

Rapid River Man Pleads Guilty To Game Charge

Robert Martin, 38, and Delbert Mosier, 45, of Rapid River, were arrested Sunday evening in Ensign Township by Conservation officers and charged with illegal possession of a deer.

Officers Charles Bowen and Tom Safford were investigating a report of a shooting along the Ogontz Road and checked the car and found a deer in the trunk.

Martin pleaded guilty to the charge when arraigned before Justice A. J. Mortier of Gladstone and paid a total of $100 in fine and costs. He also lost his hunting rights for three years. Mosier pleaded not guilty and will appear for trial at a later date.

Barbershop singers will practice this evening at 8 at Gladstone High School music room. Members needing transportation may call President Art Erickson.

The regular meeting of the Delta Community Council will be held Friday, Sept. 25 at the Sherman Hotel. The meeting will include a noon luncheon. Walter Lewke, Don Guindon and Jack Beck will present a proposal regarding instituting a People To People chapter in the Escanaba area.

Application for a marriage license was applied for by Tony Grzincic and Theresa M. Majestic, of Gladstone and William Wheatly, Milwaukee and Viola McGuigan, Rte. 1 Gladstone.

Financial Group Guests Of P&H Here Wednesday

The Harnischfeger Corp., and Escanaba will host an important segment of the financial community Wednesday when more than 50 investment analysts arrive here for a tour of corporation facilities. The trip here is part of a two-day information program being offered by Harnischfeger to better acquaint the analysts with the company's progress in recent years.

The analysts will fly to Escanaba after attending a morning program at the firm's Milwaukee Training Center. A speech by Corporation President Henry Harnischfeger and a review of the company's full product line will begin the day's activities. General sales managers representing each of the major divisions will discuss and describe the products in a large exhibit area.

After the product presentation, the analysts will board two planes for the flight to Escanaba. Upon arrival they will go directly to the truck crane plant to see the P & H truck crane line and watch a lifting demonstration featuring the world's largest roadable crane — Harnischfeger's new 125-ton unit. A tour of the truck crane plant will follow.

The visitors will then go to the Stephenson Ave. plant to view Harnischfeger's welding machine production. Certain to be of interest is the company's new Coreweld 600 unit — the first welding system introduced by the company.

Traveling with the analysts will be Harnischfeger President Henry Harnischfeger, Vice President—Finance and Treasurer W. L. Carter and Administrative Vice President J. A. Mezera.

When the tours are completed the guests will fly back to Milwaukee for a dinner in their honor.

The program concludes on Thursday with a tour of the company's main plant facilities and a question and answer session with corporation officials.

City Council Meet Called

The Escanaba City Council will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in a postponed regular session, when a variety of business is scheduled for attention, said City Manager George Harvey.

Presentation of the reproduction of the log of the ill-fated Coast Guard Cutter Escanaba, lost in the North Atlantic early in World War II, will be presented by the city to the Delta County Historical Museum.

John J. Mitchell, president of the Historical Society, will receive the copy of the cutter's official record for the archives of the Historical Museum. Only two men were saved after the sinking of the cutter which was on convoy duty.

Bids will be opened to supply the city with 80 tons of rock salt to be used on city streets for ice control; and a report will be received showing progress on the 1964-65 capital improvement program.

Consideration will be given recommendations of the Planning Commission; also a request of B. A. Coplan Iron & Metal Co. to vacate one-half block of 7th Ave. N. east of N. 16th St.; and consideration of a request of Clairmont Transfer Co. to vacate N. 18th St. and 19th St. between the E & LS Railroad tracks and 7th Ave. N.

Light Reflecting Satellites To Be Shot Into Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first of five light-reflecting satellites, to be used for more precise mapping of the earth's surface and gravitational field, may be launched in the next week or two from the Pacific Missile Range in California.

Called the Beacon explorer — BE-B — it will be launched into a near-polar orbit 620 miles above the earth, inclined 80 degrees to the equator.

The 120-pound BE-B will use "Doppler" radio signals to measure the effect of irregularities in the earth's gravitational field.

Highly concentrated beams of lights, called lasers, to determine the spacecraft's position in space more accurately than is possible with conventional radio means.

Hurricane Due To Hit Coast

MANTEO, N.C. (AP) — Hurricane Gladys brushed against the Atlantic Coast with winds up to 65 miles per hour today after becoming almost stationary off the North Carolina coast.

The big storm, which switched directions during the night to become a threat to the U.S. mainland, showed signs of intensification and was expected to drift slowly northwestward.

The Weather Bureau said hurricane force winds might reach the upper North Carolina coast late Tuesday night.

Sea water washed ashore by high winds and tides up to three feet above normal flooded a fishing village on North Carolina's sand banks and sent water over highways. The high-water patrol said 18 to 24 inches of water was rushing through some of the village's streets.

The patrol said the sea was breaking over the coastal highway north of Buxton, another small village near Cape Hatteras, making the road impassable.

At Nags Head and Kill Devil Hills, two feet of water gushed over U.S. 158, which runs near the beach line.

provided by the California Division of Forestry.

The danger point also appeared to have passed in Napa, 30 miles south of Calistoga at the opposite tip of the wine-rich Napa Valley.

Embers from the Calistoga fire started several minor blazes in Napa, a city of 45,000, but dwindling winds eased that threat by early today.

Firemen also appeared to have contained a 2,000-acre blaze in the Valley of the Moon, author Jack London's old stamping ground.

Santa Rosa, about 60 miles north of San Francisco, is an agricultural and commercial center for Sonoma County and sparsely populated counties to the north.

It also was the home of Luther Burbank, California's famed horticulturist, whose home is now a museum. It did not burn.

Calistoga, nestled at the foot of bleak Mt. St. Helena, 60 miles northwest of San Francisco, is most famed as a resort for its hot springs.

Health Programs For Schools Now Underway

Several programs conducted by the Delta-Menominee District Department for schools are now underway; Rancher Glen appeared at the Escanaba Area Schools last week as a preliminary to the Tuberculin-Histoplasmin testing program that will be conducted in the Delta County Schools beginning early in 1965.

Rancher Glen, who is sponsored by the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, gives the children pointers on personal health care and describes the tuberculin test.

The immunization program of Menominee School children is now underway, as well as the Vision Conservation screening program. The Vision screening program is sponsored jointly by the schools and the Delta-Menominee District Health Department. Mrs. Doris Szapa, Stephenson, registered vision technician, is in charge of this program.

Survey Point Dedication Set

Members of the Upper Peninsula Chapter, Michigan Society of Registered Land Surveyors will dedicate a monument at Sault Ste. Marie marking the end point of that portion of the original survey of the State of Michigan known as the Michigan Principal Meridian on Saturday, Sept. 26.

At the beginning of the original surveys in the state, in order to establish the square townships and sections necessary for the disposal of the public lands, an east-west base line, and a north-south principal meridian had to first be constructed from which the rest of the surveys could be run. This work was started in 1815 at a point near Jackson in the Lower Peninsula.

During the course of the next few years the meridian line as carried northward until in 1840 the surveyors reached Lake Huron. A jog westward was made here in order to cross the Straits of Mackinac at its narrowest point; but, once across, the survey line was run back to the east to the present site of Cedarville. Thence the survey crew turned again to the north, brushing and chaining their line forward until on August 25, 1840, William Austin Burt, deputy United States surveyor, emplaced the end point of the Michigan principal meridian on the bank of the Saint Marys river at the northern outskirts of the settlement of Sault Ste. Marie. The monument marking the end point of the meridian will be dedicated on Sept. 26 to the memory of the original surveyors and to the heritage they have passed on to the modern day surveyor or who must even today base all of his work on the lines established in the 1840's.

It is expected that about 100 surveyors and their wives and guests will attend the dedication. There will be a luncheon, meetings, a cocktail hour and a banquet at the Ojibway Hotel. At 4:15 p. m. the dedication will be made at the site of the monument which is near the railroad viaduct over Portage Ave. Dedication speakers will include George Blass, Baldwin, president, Michigan Society of Registered Land Surveyors; Victor Arcand, Bruce Crossing, president of the Upper Peninsula Chapter; and Thomas F. Schweigert of Petoskey, state senator from the 29th district. Frank Kerekes, dean of faculty, Michigan Tech, will be the banquet speaker.

Five Escapers At Ionia Caught

IONIA (AP) — A covey of five Michigan Reformatory trusty inmates walked away from dormitories here Monday night but two were captured after less than two hours.

A telephone call to state police from a resident along M 21, little more than one mile east of the reformatory, led to the capture of Glenn Tiller, 21, of Kalamazoo, and David Gillispie of Wayne.

The three others, police said, were believed to have fled the area in a car stolen from a rural home just north of Ionia on M 66.

Sought were David C. LaPoint, 20, of Oakland County; Jerry C. Rappuhn, 21, of Pontiac, and Jerry J. Reynolds, 21, of Sheridan.

Schoolcraft And Mackinac Named In Dropout Study

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University has been awarded a contract for $197,000 to conduct a new approach to the problem of high school drop-outs in rural areas.

The experimental and demonstration project to aid disadvantaged rural youth is sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and by the Office of Manpower, Automation, and Training and the Bureau of Employment Security in the Department of Labor.

The proposal for the pilot project was drafted by William Martin who has successfully developed the University's Area Training Center.

Director of the program will be Ivan Ryan, former education consultant in guidance and counseling with the Michigan Department of Public Instruction. Former guidance director at Newberry High School and at Gwinns High School, Ryan holds the bachelor's degree from Northern and the master's degree from the University of Michigan. He is chairman of the State Ethics Committee of the Michigan Education Association, past president of the Upper Peninsula Counselors Association, and past president of the Region 17 Council of the MEA.

The project will bring to the NMU campus 100 disadvantaged high school dropouts from the rural areas of Mackinac, Schoolcraft, and Baraga counties. They will receive individualized attention in remedial education, orientation to the world of work, and vocational training.

The 15-month program is scheduled to begin in November.

In addition to the campus program, related services, such as referral to existing agencies for assistance, will be provided for an expected 300 other high school drop-outs at the local level.

The university will provide a full-time professional staff to direct the program.

Serving as counselor-coordinators will be Robert Liberty, former principal of the Peck, Mich., High School, and Roger LaBonte, former chief residence hall advisor and graduate student at the University of Denver.

Liberty, former resident of L'Anse, received the bachelor's degree from Northern and the master's degree from the U-M.

LaBonte, life-long resident of Marquette, holds the bachelor's and masters degrees from Northern Michigan University and has completed a year of graduate study at the University of Denver.

Ferency Stays On For Election

LANSING (AP) — Any repercussions from Zolton Ferency's minority stand at the Democratic National Convention apparently will take a back seat to November election results in deciding the future of the Democratic state chairman.

Anti-Ferency comment was not in evidence at last week-end's Democratic State Convention. And Ferency said he has heard nothing more about the Atlantic City incident.

Ferency and former Gov. John Swainson found themselves opposite the rest of the party leadership at the national convention when they opposed the President Johnson-approved seating compromise for Mississippi delegates.

One reliable source said this seemed to have somewhat of a negative effect in leadership consideration of a running mate for gubernatorial candidate Neil Staebler.

Ferency was prominently mentioned but Staebler picked State Solicitor Gen. Robert Derengoski for the lieutenant governor nomination.

A spokesman said Staebler asked Ferency to stay on as state chairman, with the election only six weeks away.

Ferency's term will end when the party holds its so-called spring state convention in February.

Ferency said he won't begin to think—at least aloud—about a second term until the election results are in.

No after-effects of Atlantic City seemed to stalk Swainson.

He took the lead in the state convention's closed-caucus decision-making meeting when he said Staebler should have free choice of a running mate regardless of how delegates felt about the specific selection.

And he drew a rousing cheer when he announced his health is improved enough to permit him to return to full-time campaigning this fall.

LITTER JAM
NEW YORK (AP)—This year's highway litter, if laid end to end, would create the world's record traffic jam. In fact, it would bring all traffic to a dead stop on the 3,000 mile route between New York and San Francisco, reports Keep America Beautiful, the national antilitter organization.

Keep America Beautiful says the rubbish that will be dumped on U. S. streets and highways in 1964, if concentrated, would bury the transcontinental route a foot deep in discarded cartons, paper bags, chewing gum and candy wrappers, garbage, cans, bottles and such assorted trash as old mattresses and automotive parts.

TV Education Plans Outlined

Plans of Northern Michigan University for an educational television station stretching across the Upper Peninsula and into northern lower Michigan were outlined for Rotary Monday by Dr. Kenneth Bergsma of NMU, Marquette. Application for the system has been filed with the FCC.

Dr. Bergsma discussed the "explosion" of knowledge which has occurred since World War II, with printed material three times as great as that accumulated from the beginning of man's writing to the World War II period.

This necessitates a rapid use of the information available, and rapid reading techniques, using a sweep over printed pages rather than a shifting of the eye across each line of the page.

The increased growth of knowledge has created problems for the Library of Congress, which files copies of books published. Use of microdot filming is contemplated to conserve storage space. Libraries in the future should consider ways to make books and materials quickly available. Some students who have had rapid reading training can read 5,000 to 6,000 words per minute. They could read the book in the time it takes to get it, he noted.

The Upper Peninsula TV education program would use a considerable portion of its spectrum for classes to help meet illiteracy, provide credit courses and adult education, including information bankers, police, firefighters and teacher in-service classes would need. Materials for schools also would be carried.

Cable systems in the communities would be utilized for it and eventually it is hoped a state network will be available so Michigan State, University of Michigan, Wayne State and University of Detroit could also distribute TV material.

Potatoes Spell New Jobs For Greenville, Mich.

GREENVILLE (AP) — If an ordinary potato or a shiny new refrigerator doesn't give you a feeling of exhilaration, then you don't live in this western Michigan community of 7,500.

Both refrigerators and potatoes are spelled alike here: job-b-s.

Ore - Ida Foods, Inc., broke ground Monday for a potato processing plant which it said would employ 200 to 400, beginning next fall.

Almost simultaneously, Gibson Refrigerator Co., threatening to move south only 18 months ago, announced that before year's end it would add 900 to its payroll.

Gibson To Expand
Ore - Ida's new plant will be the first major industry to set up shop here in the 25 years since Federal - Mogul - Bower Bearings came. And it is being started at a time when unemployment in this (Montcalm) county and neighboring Ionia County are rated at 8.5 per cent, up from 5.2 last June.

"It gave everyone a fine feeling of exhilaration," said 73-year-old insurance man Stanley Kemp, whose wife, Marian, spearheaded a civic fund-raising drive for the $75,000 needed to provide Ore-Ida with its 415-acre plant site.

That feeling was echoed by Gov. George Romney, who came here for the groundbreaking and said: "We should welcome these people because they are experienced and capable."

Gibson Refrigerator, which already employs about 2,000, said it planned to add 600 at its plant here and another 300 at its plant in Belding, eight miles to the south. These, it said, will include about 100 recalled from layoff.

Booming appliance sales were accountable for the announced additions by the area's largest employer, which the parent Hupp Corp. threatened to move to Mississippi before it reached a new contract with the United Auto Workers Union a year and a half ago.

Golden Grigg of Burley, Idaho vice president of Ore-Ida, estimated his new plant would employ 200 to 400 for 10 months a year in processing and freezing potatoes into a variety of products for retail supermarkets, restaurants and institutions.

Just how many jobs this would add in the fields, no one estimated immediately, but Montcalm County farmers have contracted to put some 7,000 acres under cultivation next spring.

An average acre will produce 600 to 700 bushels, and any way

Shipman and Harvey talked to the Rotarians on the possibility of bringing these races to Little Bay de Noc and said that it would require the cooperation of not only the Escanaba, Gladstone and Rapid River areas, but the entire county.

Guests at the meeting were Art Moberg of Escanaba, Jack Miller of Rapid River, and Charles Burton, Gladstone.

Game Abounded In Pioneer Era

By Lee Smits

Let's go away back in a review of Michigan's fish and game resources.

French explorers (early in the 19th century) and the first settlers, found a fantastic abundance of food and fur to be had for the taking. The French had difficulty in lifting their overburdened nets in Lake St. Clair.

Even in the first part of the 20th Century there were heavy fall runs of whitefish in the Detroit River. There was a government fishery on Belle Isle, about where the Dossin Marine museum stands today. Fifty years ago you could journey to Belle Isle and buy whitefish, dipped from a live box — 10 cents a pound!

Brook trout were found mostly in streams flowing into Lake Superior, with the exception of the northwest corner of the Lower Peninsula. The Au Sable was, of course, grayling water. Brook trout were planted in all parts of Michigan so that by the turn of the century there were speckled trout in every spring feed creek in Michigan, and lots of them.

WHEN THE first white men went inland in Michigan they found an incredible abundance of wildlife. What most impressed everybody were the clouds of passenger pigeons that literally darkened the sun. I've heard many a tale from eye witnesses of the pigeons and their slaughter.

It would be an interesting research job to map the game populations of Michigan as of a 100 years ago. We know there had been a few buffalo in the prairie patches of the southwestern border counties. Elk were hunted in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula before the Civil War.

We know that deer were not abundant north of the farming country before the big areas of pine forest were logged off. In fact, deer were few and far between in most parts of the Lower Peninsula as late as 1917. Now, of course, there are deer in every Michigan county.

I HAVE some notes on way-back-when of special interest to me because they are about a region that I first visited more than 50 years ago, when it was true frontier.

Homer Smathers of Detroit was born in 1888 on a homestead near what is now Helmer in Luce County, on the North side of Manistique Lake. His father, a surveyor, back-packed in from Naubinway, on the north shore of Lake Michigan, and filed on his homestead in 1878. Young Homer drove oxen, clearing land. His recollection of wildlife are reminders of good old days that were really good.

"The fishing," says Smathers, "was what a fisherman dreams about today. Manistique Lake was full of northern pike, walleyes, perch. Round Lake (just north of Manistique) had the nicest yellow perch I've ever seen. I have caught as many as 103 in 45 minutes."

Let me remark that the early settlers were not wasters. Homer Smathers' perch were undoubtedly distributed among the neighbors.

THERE WERE deer in the area, and Smathers reports wolves coming through from time to time. It is hard to say whether deer were as abundant as they are now, but they were tamer. Settlers depended largely on venison for fresh meat and lumber camps employed professional hunters.

Smathers says that wildfowl were not plentiful, which indicates that Manistique and South Manistique lakes had not yet developed the rich supply of duck food plants that were present 40 years ago. In late fall the shores would be banked high with wild celery stalks, pulled up by feeding rafts. Now these lakes attract few ducks, and not merely because the era of wildfowl abundance has come to an end, but because the shallow bays no longer produce the forage plants.

The bays are on their way to becoming bogs as the years roll on. The bogs eventually will be swamps.

Meanwhile, above the land that young Homer Smathers helped clear with a yoke of steers, big flocks of Canada geese fly in and out of the vast federal Seney refuge.

Wood has been used by mankind as handles for tools for more than 6,000 years.

The California condor, now in danger of total extinction, has a wing spread of as much as ten feet and often soars at altitudes of more than 12,000 feet. Condors feed on carrion, but may attack sheep, goats and deer. They are among the world's largest birds of flight.

Daily Care Vital To Teens

By ALICIA HART

Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Procrastination does little to help a teen-ager get rid of limp, oily hair and skin problems the day of a big party. One day's scrubbing can't overcome weeks of neglect.

But constant daily care with soaps and lotions designed for young skins helps keep the complexion clean and clear.

Body changes and the tensions of just growing up contribute to teen discomfort. Facing a blind date or going to your first big outing with the fellow you've had your eye on for some time add to the strain. Keep calm and collected by being sure of your clothes and cosmetics. Being well-groomed and knowing it gives you confidence. Thus you can concentrate on your date rather than berate yourself because of scrappy hair, ragged nails and grubby clothes.

Start at the top in building your grooming quotient. Experts with a firm that specializes in cosmetics aids for teenagers (Bonne Bell), recommend a shampoo that takes out excess oil and helps control dandruff. Soap facials, morning, noon and night, wash away grime and excess oil that plug up pores and encourage acne. Follow these with an antiseptic cleanser.

At night, you may want to use a medicated mask on troublesome spots to clear away blackheads.

Before a party, treat yourself to a scented bath, another facial and don't forget your deodorant and hand lotion.

If you have facial blemishes, there is a medicated, tinted foundation make-up to smooth over these. Press on your powder and brush away the excess. Apply lipstick and you are ready to go. Remember to keep your make-up light so your youthful good looks shine through.

At the party, use a special towellette with an antiseptic cleanser to remove old make-up before putting on new. You'll continue to feel refreshed even after hours of dancing the slop or the chicken.

A jar of cocktail onions—the tiny variety—in the refrigerator? Toss some of them after draining, into a green salad and taste what zest the onions give.

Fry tomatoes (red or green) in bacon drippings and serve with a cream sauce made in the skillet in which the tomatoes were cooked.

Special Film At Adventist Church Friday

A recently produced film, "And Then There Was Bread", will be shown Friday evening, Sept. 25, at the Seventh-day Adventist Auditorium, 210 S. 23rd.

Dealing with the "Investment" program of the church, the film relates unusual experiences of people who have dedicated or invested in some project for raising mission funds for the church. It is not a regular mission offering, but a means of increasing mission giving by using leisure time.

Projects run the gamut of individuals who invested in garden seeds to boys selling "holes" left from mothers' donuts for the annual endeavor. Included in the film is footage taken in the Upper Peninsula at the Lawrence Smith farm near Wilson. The Smith family dedicated a calf to the project and the film tells how the calf was protected during a spring flood.

The total amount raised this way by the Sabbath Schools of Michigan above the regular mission offering was $46,533, an all time and the highest of any conference in North America.

The film is being shown by M. F. Grau, Lansing, Sabbath School director for the state. The program will begin at 7:30 and is open to the public.

Fashion is going dotty this fall. Stepping onto campuses will be knee-highs, brightly spattered with dime-sized dots (left). The perfect partner to skirts or Bermudas, these socks are in a not-too-bulky combination of orlon, dacron and nylon. Another footnote to the air of casual dress is the ankle-high boot of vivid fleece, held snugly to the feet with a belting of leather over the ankle. School-bound lasses who know their fashion primer will come out for the wildly patterned over-the-knee socks (right). Jumbo mosaic blocks march smartly up each side of the leg. Over-the-knee socks provide gay accompaniment to mid-leg boots when winter winds come whistling. These are Bonnie Doon designs.

YOU CAN'T TRUST A CATHOLIC . . .

to keep quiet about the good news of Salvation. Just when you least suspect it he says "Sorry it's Friday . . . Guess I'll settle for an egg sandwich . . . Can't make it tonight, have to go to Mass, it's a holy day . . . I'd really like to, but I decided to quit for Lent . . . Can we make it earlier, have to drive the wife and kids to Church and go to Confession this afternoon . . . I might be a couple minutes late . . . we say our prayers with the children after supper . . .

If you know a Catholic who sincerely practices his faith, then you know what an influence it is in his daily life. If you are not acquainted with any practical Catholics, you would find it worth your while to discover why and how Catholicism interweaves itself with every area of life—how it can raise life's values to a new high and give a meaningful destiny to the confused, a hope for the future for the desperate, a new sense of peace and security in the midst of uncertainty.

We think you'll find the CATHOLIC INFORMATION SERIES interesting and informative. There is no cost or obligation involved. . . . Attend one or all of the sessions as you please. THE FALL SERIES begins on Thursday, September 24, at 8:00 P. M., at St. Anne's School and continues each succeeding Tuesday and Thursday through December 15.

Planning Will Make Nursing At Home Easier

With school in session again, and the colds and flu season just around the corner, mothers must begin to think about an inevitable occurrence—sick children. For the busy housewife and mother, illness in the home can mean utter disruption of her routine unless she prepares in advance.

Since most illnesses of children and adults are treated entirely in the home, a little pre-planning will help you organize for those burdensome days.

Probably the three most important things to remember are: Keep clean. Keep cheerful. Don't play doctor—call him. When to call the doctor is the most difficult decision a mother has to make, for she certainly can't call him every time a child runs a fever.

Watch Temperature
Fever may be the first symptom that "something is wrong," and every mother can easily tell if the child's temperature is elevated. If it's only a cold, bed rest, lots of fluids and aspirin are usually all the treatment required. If the patient doesn't respond within a few hours, the family physician should be called.

Write down the doctor's instructions and follow them carefully. Don't improvise. And under no circumstances should you administer a prescription medicine you have on hand, even though the symptoms appear to be the same as those for which the medicine was ordered earlier.

If at all possible—even though it may mean some household rearrangement for awhile—give the sick person a room to himself. Clean it thoroughly first, and keep it clean, for sanitation is of first importance in fighting any illness.

Keep Cheerful
Your own cheerfulness is essential, because a gloomy face rarely makes anyone feel better. Making yourself stay cheerful will also ease your nursing task.

When you have reason to expect that home care will be long-drawn-out, call your local home-nursing service and ask that a nurse be sent to demonstrate proper home-care methods. These can lighten your load considerably.

Even better, if there is a course in home nursing available in your community, take it before illness strikes. Then the emergency will not catch you unprepared.

Hats in the "My Fair Lady" mood make millinery news this fall. Magical evening calot of shiny black satin (top left) is encircled by a brim of willow oyster feathers. In the dramatic black and white mood of the famed Ascot scene this turban (top center) has snood back detailing in zebra stripe stenciled on calf. Forward sloping hat of white mink (top right) has an oversized rounded visor and curled up brim. Delicate point d'esprit, highlighted with a streak of jet satin (lower left) pours from an open crown of black satin. A new helmet cap designed for evening wear (lower center) is given Fair Lady elegance by its original feather treatment. These are Lilly Dache designs. Large fly-away of white felt lower right by Sally Victor is faced with layers of delicate feathers.

Name Officers At Presbytery Stated Meeting

At the recent fall stated meeting of the Presbytery of Mackinac, Mrs. W. E. Malpass, ruling elder of the East Jordan United Presbyterian Church, was elected Moderator of the Presbytery. Mrs. Malpass is the first woman in the history of either the present Presbytery or the former Presbyteries of Lake Superior and Petoskey to be so honored.

Her chief responsibility will be to guide the work of the Presbytery, which oversees the life and work of all Presbyterian Churches in the Upper Peninsula and those in the upper portion of the Lower Peninsula.

During the same meeting of Presbytery, the Rev. D. Douglas Selen, minister of the Escanaba Church, was re-elected to another three-year term as stated clerk-treasurer. The office of stated clerk corresponds to that of an executive secretary of many secular organizations.

Also, the Presbytery accepted the invitation of the local church to hold its stated spring meeting here in March, 1965.

Lemmer PTA First Meeting Held Monday

The first meeting of the John Lemmer P. T. A. opened Monday evening with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." The PTA prayer was read by Mrs. William Stewart.

Presiding at the business meeting, Mrs. Alfred Gossan, president, urged the cooperation of all members in giving of their time and energy to the activities planned for the year. Reports from the membership and recreation committees were heard. Dr. Alfred Gossan has been instrumental in setting up a physical fitness program for the students in 3rd, 4th, and 5th grades to be carried out during after school hours with volunteer help. Harold Johnson and Miss Ruby Blizel, physical education instructors at the Escanaba Area Public High School, will act as resource people for the program.

William Servant introduced the speaker of the evening, the Rev. Gordon Thorpe, whose topic was "Three Parents Per Child."

He said that in a survey the one thing children expected most from their parents was that they be fond of each other. The first parent needed is a mother who is a mother in the true sense of the word. The second parent needed is a father who is a real father and handles the discipline in the family in a firm, fair way. The third parent needed is a Heavenly Father as He is revealed to us in the Ten Commandments and the Old Testament tradition.

Spanish Veal Special

FROM SPANISH CUISINE — Breast of veal, boned and stuffed with ground beef.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

Here's an economical dish, a stuffed breast of veal, that is prepared ahead and reheated at the cook's convenience. This Spanish recipe was adapted from a cook book compiled and published in Madrid. The original directions specify the use of a pressure cooker. When we tested this method in our kitchen, we found it yielded tender meat in a short time.

Stuffed Veal Breast

2½ pounds boned breast of veal (4 lbs. before boning)
½ pound chopped beef chuck
1½ teaspoons salt
Pepper to taste
1 egg, slightly beaten
10 green olives, pitted and chopped
¼ cup olive oil
3 cloves garlic, peeled
1 medium onion, quartered
1 small carrot, quartered
1 bay leaf
2 tablespoons tomato catchup
½ cup white wine
1 cup water
Lay veal flat; trim any ragged edges. Mix beef with ½ teaspoon of the salt, the pepper, egg and olives. Press beef mixture flat over veal to within ½-inch from edges. Roll up veal, tucking in edges; tie with cord. In a pressure pan, brown veal in the olive oil with the garlic; discard garlic. Add onion, carrot, bay leaf, catchup, wine, water and remaining 1 teaspoon salt. Cook in pressure pan at 15 pounds pressure for 20 minutes; allow pressure to return to normal. Remove meat, cover and chill. Puree vegetables and liquid in electric blender. Slice cold meat thin and reheat in sauce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Accompany fruit sherbets with fruit! Serve lemon or orange sherbet, for example, with raspberries or strawberries.

CLOVES HAND-PICKED

Cloves, which are the unopened flowers of an evergreen tree on Zanzibar, in the Indian Ocean, are hand-picked twice annually. Some of these trees bloom for more than a century.

Tomatoes seem indifferent to the length of days and nights.

Growing suburban pastime—the kaffeeklatsch—has its drawbacks. Rich pastries or cakes contribute calories that threaten the waistline while housewives enrich their day with talk. Hint for the next coffee meeting: serve fruit instead of high calorie pastries and cut down on sugar in the coffee.

Cut Calories While Coffeeing

The morning kaffeeklatsch has picked up as much steam in suburban areas as the bubbling pot of coffee that started it all.

Some women use the mid-morning coffee hour to welcome newcomers to the neighborhood. Others use it as an excuse to eye a friend's visiting relative.

Whether it is a twosome or several women, the menu is the same—coffee and pastries or cake.

This combination was all right in the early 1800s when teasing husbands coined the German word "kaffeeklatsch." In those days, women didn't give a hoot about their waistlines. Being thick in the middle was a sign of affluence.

Attitudes toward the figure have changed, but coffeeing hasn't. To curb that sweet tooth and the resulting calorie build-up, serve fruit instead of pastry. For example, a banana that satisfies the yen for something sweet is only 85 calories. Coffee itself contains no calories. So, you may have as many cups of coffee as you wish, but watch the sugar.

Other changes such as adding a new flavor with chicory, serving hot skimmed milk for cafe au lait or orange peel and cinnamon for coffee cappuccino or noncaloric whipped cream for a Viennese touch dress up your conversation hour refreshment, but hold down the calories.

And, if you are in the habit of driving just a few blocks for a morning's coffee-chat, don't. The short walk will do you more good.

INDIAN SUMMER was a busy time for Indians who lived in Michigan about 1500. This painting by artist Robert A. Thom shows a Potawatomi village and is one of a series he is doing for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to further knowledge of the state's history. The paintings are displayed in the State Office Building lobby Sept. 17-26, at Escanaba.

Factory Outlook Good In Canada

DETROIT (AP)—Canada now is "well launched into a sustained period of economic expansion" and is confident it can be maintained, Paul Martin, Canadian secretary of state for external affairs, said Monday. Martin told the Economic Club of Detroit that "based on the performance of the Canadian economy during the first half of the year, we expect 1964 to show an increase in our Gross National Product over 1963 appreciably greater than the 6½ per cent in dollar value which was achieved between 1962 and 1963."

Singling out Canada's auto industry for mention, Martin said: "We are convinced of the desirability of much greater regionalization of production of those items which can be manufactured most efficiently in Canada. This clearly means increased production and more jobs in both countries and an expansion of trade in both directions."

Observing that Canadian auto exports to the U.S. last year totaled $36 million while imports from the U.S. were almost $600 million, Martin said his government hoped to bring "the trade in auto parts and components into somewhat better balance."

peaceful achievement of human equality."

Party Planks Are Confusing

By GENE SCHROEDER Associated Press Writer

Michigan voters who bother to study the platforms adopted by the Republican and Democratic state conventions last weekend might be more confused than convinced.

With the possible exception of a statement on extremism in both platforms and some virtually non-controversial subjects, the two parties differ over the state of the state in large detail.

And even on the issue of extremism there were some differences. The GOP statement, in fact, came under attack in the pre-resolutions committee as being open to interpretation as an insult to the GOP presidential nominee, Sen. Barry Goldwater. At the San Francisco convention, Goldwater said "extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice," and Gov. George Romney failed in an attempt to get an extremism plank into the national platform.

Hate Condemned

The statement adopted by Michigan Republicans is virtually the same Romney amendment rejected at the national convention. It says: "Human dignity cannot thrive in an atmosphere of unreasoned hate. We respect responsible criticism and dissent but repudiate the efforts of irresponsible extremist groups to discredit any party by their efforts to infiltrate positions of responsibility, or to attach themselves to its candidates."

The Democratic platform says: "Unlike the Republican party, the Democratic Party of Michigan condemns and repudiates all forms of extremism, whether from the right or left, including the extreme tactics of such organizations as the Communist Party, the Ku Klux Klan, and the John Birch Society."

On the subject of agriculture, the Republicans say: "A major Republican concern has been the protection of both the consumer and the producer of agricultural products. . . . New legislation was enacted to apply necessary regulatory procedures to modern dietary dairy products and soft drinks, egg processing, chemical sprays used in vineyards and cattle brought into this state."

Tourist Program Pushed The Democrats declare: "Many agriculture reforms are becoming more necessary. Republicans did not enact one major agriculture bill in the last legislative session."

Republicans say the administration has worked tirelessly to promote the potential of Michigan as a Winter-Water-Wonderland, with higher appropriations for the tourist council and regional councils.

Democrats deplore what they call the lax attitude of Gov. Romney "who even has refused to support the appropriation of necessary funds to carry out the recommendations of his own conservation study commission."

Republicans say the legislature sponsored minimum wage, construction safety, and economic expansion laws "which have all directly benefited the working people of this state."

Democrats insist "Republican-dominated legislatures have ignored the plight of the low-paid worker, the migrant worker, the unemployed, the worker who becomes sick or is injured on the job."

The GOP platform says that under a Republican administration Michigan has "reversed the decline of industrial growth and jobs" which marked the 14 years of Democratic Party control.

Prosperity Traced

Democrats, in their "jobs and wages" plank, say Michigan's current prosperity can be traced directly to the economic policies of the Kennedy-Johnson administration.

vision of our new state constitution at the state, local and private levels to eliminate discrimination on the basis of race, religion, color or national origin in education, housing, employment opportunities and access to public accommodations.
